

GOV. WOLF VISITS PHA TO ANNOUNCE SENIOR CENTER GRANTS

Pennsylvania Governor Tom Wolf paid a visit to Wilson Park in late February to announce the recipients of the 2016-17 Senior Community Center Grants. The Wilson Park Senior Community Center received a grant of just over $22,000.

The grant will cover the purchase of two touchscreen computer systems, five laptops, and an ADA compliant laptop cart so disabled seniors can use the computers. The grant money will also pay for physical upgrades to the kitchen at the Wilson Park Senior Community Center. Money for this grant and 37 others awarded across the state comes from the Pennsylvania Lottery.

“We thank Governor Wolf and the Pennsylvania Department of Aging for this generous grant. This computer upgrade will allow seniors to stay active, in touch, and healthy in many ways,” said PHA President and CEO Kelvin Jeremiah. “A thoughtful investment in seniors such as this one pays long term dividends to the community.”

Secretary of Aging Teresa Osborne accompanied the governor on his visit and later toured the facilities at Wilson Park.

PHA President and CEO Kelvin Jeremiah welcomed Pennsylvania Governor Tom Wolf who visited Wilson Park to announce the recipients of the 2016-17 Senior Community Center Grants.

The Wilson Park Senior Community Center received a grant of just over $22,000. The grant will cover the purchase of two touchscreen computer systems, five laptops, and an ADA compliant laptop cart so disabled seniors can use the computers. The grant money will also pay for physical upgrades to the kitchen at the Wilson Park Senior Community Center.